

Dear [Your legislator],

As my Member of Congress, you have a unique ability to help Americans struggling with hunger, either by supporting funding for federal hunger-relief programs or by bringing attention to the great work being done in our state to fight hunger.

Child Nutrition Reauthorization is right around the corner, making right now the perfect time to visit a food bank to see the impact child hunger programs are having in our community.

When you visit a food bank, you begin to see the scope of the problem, as well as the importance and effectiveness of the partnership between government and charity.

Food banks and other charities can't solve the problem of child hunger alone, which is why your role as a federal legislator is so important. I am asking you to schedule a visit to a food bank to see these programs in operation and learn about how you can strengthen them as a Member of Congress.

Contact your local food bank to find a site near you: <http://feedingamerica.org/foodbank-results.aspx>

Sincerely,
